

Essay Writing Service

Today the talent of a writer is valued more than ever - ordinary posts and posts in social networks, small essays or voluminous works, all that can be taught and studied.

About how to turn your own writing skills into earnings, Mind offers to learn from the following material from the series "10 successful business ideas implemented in various fields.

Publications on Entrepreneur materials were prepared by Mind together with the "Profpereklad" translation agency. You can read about the ideas implemented in the sphere of catering, in projects for maintenance of houses and apartments, about the services of a personal trainer, child care and experience in implementing educational projects in previous publications.

You can work as an essayist anywhere in the world. All you need is a reliable connection to the Network. But, if you want to make a profit from your business, do not ignore the advice. We offer you 10 examples of ideas for writers and translators that will inspire you for your own business.

1. Fiverr: Writing and translation

Fiverr is a platform for freelancers, where writers and translators from all over the world offer their services and execute projects for customers. Take your time filling out a profile - first see what other authors are presenting, what words they use to describe their skills and who you will have to compete with.

The Writing & Translation section on the Fiverr platform covers the entire range of possible projects, from articles to cover letters to product descriptions. This service works as follows: authors present their skills and specify the price they ask for, while customers choose the one they think will perform the order better.

Essay Writing Service

Fiverr allows authors to specify any price for certain skills or type of work. It is the writer who determines which project to take. If the author has several skills, he can add other categories to his profile from the site.

2. Copywriter .

Do you copywriting? Writing texts for numerous projects: advertisements, marketing brochures, press releases, TV and radio spots and catalogs? Try becoming a freelance copywriter and start working for yourself. Here is an example of a person who has successfully implemented this idea.

Lürzer's Archive magazine called Colin Corcoran the number one copywriter in the USA. He received many awards for various campaigns and promotional texts presented in numerous sources. He has also worked for many well-known international brands.

Innovative idea

Want to fulfill various orders, work with many companies and receive projects from numerous creative agencies? Then develop in yourself universal writing skills.

Colin Corcoran does everything from texts for printed publications to content for radio and social networks. He specializes in many industries, which gives him a huge advantage over his competitors.

3. Essay Writing Service

Do you like to travel and have a talent for writing? Then start visiting interesting places and make money on it. But do not run straight away from work and get on a plane. First, look at how this person has turned travel into a profession.

Matthew Carsten devoted himself entirely to writing the blog Expert Vagabond about travel. He has been exploring the planet for 9 years. In his blog Matthew shares entertaining stories, gives advice about budget tourism, publishes funny videos and inspiring photos, as well as talks about the crazy adventures that have happened to him in different parts of the world.

He's been featured on National Geographic, Lonely Planet, Travel Channel and publications such as the New York Times and Go Pro.

Innovative idea

As Matthew Carsten travels around the world, he also makes and sells professional travel photos. As a result, he has two sources of profit and a budget for traveling around the world.

4. Corrector

Quickly find errors in large texts from different sources? You can provide proofreading services to both students and corporate clients.

Write Words adjusts the works of scientists, students, writers and texts for business. The company specializes not only in dissertations, reports, essays and research plans, but also articles for newspapers and magazines, advertising materials and scientific publications.

Innovative idea

Remember that a professional proofreader should have as much experience in writing and editing texts in other industries. Write Words also provides technical editing, formatting, bibliography and writing services to clients.

5. Social network administrator

Social networks have become a new platform for direct communication between companies and customers. And this communication must be effective. If you have experience in marketing in social networks, this business idea can become yours.

Lyfe Marketing is successfully marketing on such sites as Facebook, Instagram and Google